

Autism Spectrum Disorder Awareness & ACCEPTANCE

Autism Spectrum Disorder is a condition that affects how people learn and interact with the world around them.

ASD affects all types of people and is often invisible.

Academic support and disability services provides accommodations so that every student has equal access to college programs and activities.

You can support neurodivergent peers by:

Being welcoming and inclusive.

Being direct with language.

Learning about neurodiversity.

Advocating for better inclusion and access.

